

BIBLE COURSES OFFERED PUBLIC

Kendall Instructors Are Mapping Out New Work for Spring

INSTRUCTION IS FREE

Hebrew History and Life of Paul Are Also to Be Taken Up

Two Bible courses will be offered free to the Tulsa public by the University of Tulsa (Kendall college) during the spring semester beginning January 24. The courses, one of which will deal with the New Testament and the other with the Old Testament, will be of interest to Sunday school teachers and others who desire to study the Bible more, and besides giving instruction in the holy book will apply its great truths to the life of today. Dr. F. G. Dill, dean of the university and head of the department of Bible and Greek, will be the instructor. The exact hours for the courses will be announced later.

Two other new Biblical courses, both for one hour, will be open to the student body during the next semester. One, a course in Hebrew history, will be open as an elective to freshmen and sophomores. Though Hebrew history is not usually taught in the history departments of American colleges and universities, Dr. Dill considers the message of these ancient records to be of the greatest value in stimulation of a true American democracy. As time permits during the course, there will be discussion of such topics as the following: The world in which the Hebrews lived, the cradle of democracy, the struggle for independence, David the organizer of the Hebrew state, Solomon the autocrat, the revolt against autocracy, the experiments with military despotism, the Phoenician propaganda, the protest against greed and privilege, the demand for clean politics and religion, the road to ruin, the church absorbs the state, the death grapple for religious freedom, Rome's death thrust. The text to be used as a foundation for the study will be "History of the Hebrew Commonwealth," a new book by Bailey and Kent.

"The Life of Paul as Told by Himself" has been planned as an elective course for juniors and seniors in the next semester. Paul's Epistles will be very carefully studied for every bit of evidence bearing on his life and times and this data will be collected and put in order. Among the Paul topics to be discussed will be: Childhood in the university town, Tarsus; at the feet of Gamaliel or Rabbinic education; inquisitor and persecutor, the vision of Jesus and the changed life; the obscurity, three world revolutionizing missionary tours; the struggle for religious freedom; the introduction of Christianity into Europe; arrest in Jerusalem and imprisonment in Caesarea.

In the Oil Fields

Anderson, at the center of the east line of the southeast of the north-east of 34-14-14, is an eight-barrel well after the shot in sand found from 1,133 to 1,147 feet.

North of Enola.
The Oklahoma Iowa Oil company's No. 6, on the Anderson farm in the center of the southeast of the north-east of 34-14-15, is a ten-barrel producer in the 1,734 to 1,756 foot sand. Hudson et al are drilling at 450 feet in No. 1 Anderson, in the southeast corner of the southwest of the northeast of 8-14-15.

At Phillipsville.
A regrettable accident occurred early yesterday morning which resulted in one death and two narrow escapes. The death is that of Orris Raider, 19, of Meridian, Okla., who was assistant cook at the boarding house on the Riley Thompson lease of the Gladys Belle Oil company. The boarding house, which was built of wood, was run by Mike McCloskey, brother of the well known singer of the same name. About 2 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey were awakened by the smell of smoke and found the place in flames. They were barely able to escape through a window. Young Raider was sleeping in an adjoining room, and it is believed he was suffocated by the smoke before he could make any effort to save himself. His charred body was found after the fire had burned out. It is not known how the fire started.

North of Phillipsville.
The Lyons Petroleum company has begun drilling again and has reached a depth of 1,290 feet at No. 1 Jefferson in the northwest corner of the northeast of northeast of 14-14-11.

In the same area John H. Dixon held lost a rig by fire on his Dixon Washington lease yesterday. It being located in the south half of southeast of 15-14-11. The fire was caused by a fire the crew had built near the well to keep warm.

At Henryetta.
There is marked hostility against gas being taken from the fields in that vicinity and run to Okmulgee, as is readily seen by the following editorial which appears in the Henryetta Free Lance. It seems that some bragging Okmulgeean stepped down that way and made the assertion that a "Mr. Kingwood" or some body was going to "drill a ring of gas wells around Henryetta and pump this gas into Okmulgee. Now, it goes without saying that this would be a rotten trick to play on Henryetta, as will readily be realized by reading the following from the Free Lance:

"The knowing ones had a quiet laugh at our expense lately on account of the statement that 'Mr. Kingwood' whose big wells are near town, lives in Okmulgee. The amusing thing is that there is no 'Mr. Kingwood' at all. The name given the oil and gas company is a combination of names—probably King and Wood. The editor knew nothing of this, nor in fact do we care a continental about. But the conversation that made our error clear to us carried a statement charged to certain big operators in Okmulgee that if true is worth remembering. It is the threat that they, the operators, will drill a ring of wells around Henryetta, and pump this gas into Okmulgee! People who talk that way are simply green with envy. They are too narrow between the eyes to be good citizens. It will kill them when Henryetta doubles its population—for it is going to happen, and that soon, too. But our statement about Okmulgee buying gas out of this Henryetta field goes."—Okmulgee Democrat.

Amerada Employees Receive Bonus.
The regular salaries of employees of the Amerada Petroleum corporation were very happily surprised yesterday by receiving checks in the amount of ten per cent of their salary for the present year.

This bonus, coming from a company which has been operating in the midcontinent field just a little over a year, and in view of the recent depression of the oil industry shows unbounded loyalty to their employees and also reflects an optimistic attitude toward the present unsettled market conditions.

PASSENGER AGENT FOR THOU

Opera Company's Business So Great Has Own Traffic Director

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—Transportation problems of a big opera company on the road are so complex that the Chicago Grand Opera association has employed an experienced railroad passenger agent as traffic director. Leaving Chicago about the last week of January the company will go to New York for two weeks, and then visit most of the principal cities from coast to coast. E. K. Rixby, for many years a passenger agent of one of the largest roads in the country, is the new traffic director. He was loaned to the democratic national committee by his company last spring to organize a traffic bureau and supervised the travel of democratic convention delegates.

WATCH FOR GREEN AND YELLOW CARD

Manager Says Would "Wring Tears From Wooden Indian."

That the explanation of the advantages of being "prompt pay," which will be set forth in the pay-up week campaign of the Associated Retail Credit men during the first week in January, "would bring tears from a wooden Indian," is the assertion of the credit manager of the organization.

Next week green and yellow posters will appear in all downtown windows. They will cause you to hesitate, then remain and read, after you have read you will know that pay-up week has arrived. Folders will also be distributed by industrial concerns to their employees, and to the general public by the stores Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s and other public institutions.

A letter from E. A. Gulke, secretary of the Tulsa Advertising club, to the campaign committee states that the club has gone on record as heartily endorsing the campaign and recommends concentration of effort.

newspaper advertising to inform the public of the importance of paying up and keeping paid up. They recommend that every advertiser in the local papers use a line in his ads during the campaign calling attention to the fact that January 3 to 10, 1921, is pay-up week. Letters from the various pastors of Tulsa churches indicate that the moral side of pay-up week will be thoroughly covered. The latest to be heard from is Rev. S. S. Kaufman, pastor of the First Lutheran church, who states that he will call attention to the subject in his New Year's sermon, in order that all members of his church may realize that it would be a great blessing to him and if all would follow the scriptural commands of "Render to every man his due," and "Pay that thou owest."

WINTER WHEAT LOOKS GOOD

Some Corn Yet in Fields and Cotton Is Neglected.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 25.—Winter wheat in Oklahoma continues in "good to excellent" condition and is being pastured extensively, says the report of weather crop conditions in the state for the week ending December 23, issued at the weather bureau here. Moderate temperatures and generally fair weather, with the exception of light to moderate rains at the close of the week, made up the weather program of the period. The weather was favorable for farm work, continues the report, the growth of winter grains and the harvesting of crops that were still in the fields, including the picking of cotton.

The summary states there is ample soil moisture in all sections of the state. "There is still some corn in the fields," continues the synopsis. "Some cotton was picked during the week, but picking is progressing slowly and an unusually large amount of cotton is still in the fields. There is an abundance of rough feed, pastures are fair to good and stock is generally in good condition."
